CLAIMS FOR PENSIONS.

Judge Lockren, commissioner of pensions, who served in the war and made an enviable record as a soldier, has issued an important order relative to adjudicating and fixing the rates of pensions As he is a member of the G. Second-No specific injury or disa bility can, as such, have pensionable rating under that act, nor be considered otherwise than as it aftects the capacity of the claimant to perform ordinary manual labor.

Third-Proof that disability is not the result of claimant's own victous habits is requisite, therefore the causes and circumstances of the origin of the disability should be shown by evidence furnished in support of the claim for a pension so far as can be done, and by persons other than the claimants.

Fourth-To give the claimant pensionable status under this act the disability must be such as to incapacitate him from the performance of manual lebor in such a degree as to render him unable to earn his support. Yet the act recognizes the difference in the degree of such pensionable disability, giving $12 per month in cases of the greatest, and $6 per month in cases of the lovest degree of such pensionable disability, rendering claimant unable his forehead and one each side of his to earn support by manual labor

CAPTURED AT LAST.

Soniag New in Jall, but Fvans Escapes -Soutag Badly Wounded-His Conversation in Jail. Special to the Journal.

VISALIA, June 12 - United States Marshal Gard and posse came upon Evans and Sontag about twelve miles from here last night and had a desperate encounter with the notorious bandits in which Sontag was mortally shot and Evans probably wounded. The former was brought here at 10:25 this morning, but the latter escaped to the mountains. One of the posse was shot

Sontag was shot in the right shoulder and the shot possibly entered his breast. Evans started for a mill near there and the ground was bloody where he stopped. His two guns he left lying there and his hat, all covered with blood. Sontag lay behind a small stack of hay all night, and the posse who went this morning found him there. There is a glancing wound along nose. He claimed that he shot himself these three wounds, though this is denied It is possible he will recover from his wounds.

Being without guns or ammunition, i' is thought that Evans will now be easily caught.

Mrs. Evans and daughter Eva called at the jail an hour after Sontag was b ought in Eva cried bitterly, but to devote their personal attention to Mrs Evans looked determined and composed.

Fred E Jackson, the man shot by Evans and Sontag last night, is likely to lose his life. He was shot just above the ankle and both bones of the leg

Bejecting Offers of Silver.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, June 12 .- Acting director Preston of the mint bureau of the treasury department to-day rejected all but one offer of silver. A dozen offers ranging from $0.8339 to $0.8378 per ounce were made. He accepted an offer at $0.8339 and made a counter offer to all others at $0.8340. His course in rejecting the offers at a higher figure was approved by Secretary Carlisle. Preston states that the figures are very much higher in proportion than the price of silver to-day in London, which price guided the treasury department in its purchases The total purchases amounted to 688,000 ounces at $0.8339 and $0.8340.

Every large hotel in the city nowadays has a physician resident in the building. His presence in the hotel is one of the proofs of the completeness of the modern costelry, so far as the provision and comfort of the guest is concerned. The idea of having a doctor within instant call is beyond all question an excellent one, but it seems that it has of late been subject to grave abuse The fact has got out that some of the hotel physicians make use of their position to levy extertionate charges for the treatment of guests who have been luckless enough to fall ill among strangers Complaint is made that far from being a blessing to the guest, the ease with which medical attendance can be secured has in such cases become a source of genuine dread to visitors to the big city who have to stop at hotels The guests fear even a trifling illness while in the hotel, because if they make the fact known that they want to see a doctor they will be charged a fee out of all proportion to the service rendered by the doctor, whose chief claim to patronage is that he is "always near at band."

Complaint has been made against the doctors' charges in two of the best known hotels in the town to a prominent consulting physician

When I was taken sick at the hotel the other night," one of the complainants said, "I asked the head clerk to send me Dr. S."

"Dr. S!" said the clerk in seeming astonishment "I nover heard of him. But we have a competent physician in the hotel whom I will send to your The hotel doctor did go to the room in response to the request of the clerk He made several visits during the night, although the guests didn't want and didn't need more than one visit. A fee of $10 was charged in the bill, and the guests had to pay it Subsequent investigation made it clear that the reason for this high fee was that the hotel physician had made an arrangement with the hotel proprietor by which the latter got a third of this big fee. The guests also learned that this sharing of the fee had been the custom at the hotel for a very long time, and that guests submitted to at rather than have any wrangle at the clerk's desk over charges a thing that self respecting persons naturally dread and will avoid even where the charge is a manifest imposition. The abuse has recently attracted the attention of the professionals, who do not practice in hoitels and has evoked an earnest protest and a demand for reform

The Medical Record, under the heading 'Doctors and Hotels" handles the subject in this vigorous style

Every person of sensitive morals, and a good many with only every day sensibilities would be shocked if the whole story of the relations of doctors to hotels were written. There is a fashionable hostelry in this town where the hotel doctor charges $7 a visit and there is the best reason for believing that the husting landlord gets $2 of it. It is stated on good authority that in many hotels the official doctor is obliged to give up from one fifth to one third of his charges to the business management. People who are taken ill in hotels must have a doctor and are not disposed to question about terms They do not find out what these are until they settle the bill, and then exposts larion is too late."

It is only just to say that all the hotel physicians are not parties to this mean sort of swindling Many of them are physicians are not parties to this mean sort of swinding. Many of them are physicians of high repute who live at the rate of seven per cent per annum. hotels and pay for their board and lodg ings the same as any other guests and have a regular and legitimate schedule of charges based upon the market value of their professional services. In cases where there is a 'divvy' between the doctor and the hotel the physician gets his lodgings and board at a reduced rate He is appointed by the hotel proprietor and he excuses the high fee on the plea that he has to charge more than his reular rate in order to make good the bonus to the proprietor. This bonus is demanded for the privilege of practicing in the hotel

'This abuse is worse in Chicago than it is in New York," a prominent phy sician said

The bonus system is certainly an outrage on the traveling public, said an other physician but at the same time the hotel doctor should not shoulder the entire blaine for it. The responsibility rests with the hotel proprietor who i mean enough to look for gain from the sickness of one of his patrons It is no using very strong language to call thi barbarisin Hotel proprietors who favor the fleering of the sick in their establish ments ought to be tabooed by every hon orable and self respecting man and wo man if guests were to stay away from such hotels, the bonus system would be quickly suppressed "-New York bun

Several witnesses were examined by Fire Marshal Wintcomb for the purpose of ascertaining it possible the cause of the fire in Tremont temple, but nothing! definite could be learned From the testimony given it seems impossible that the fire could have sent 1 from the boiler, from overheated steam pipes or from the electric wires. It is stated that so far as Mr. Whitcomb has investigated the matter he has discovered no foundation for the incendiary theory, but has reason to believe that the fire was caused

The Tremont temple people, it is said, have often been troubled by rats gnawing the bellows of the organ They came from the Parker House, well fed and prepared to do mischief. It is stated that matches were not kept in the part of the temple where the fire broke out, but the rate may have carried them to the organ room from some remote part taning people who had come in for of the temple, or even from some other building —Boston Letter

A Question of Excessive Bail. The poor man who stole a loaf of bread the other day was required to give bail to the amount of $300, which is just 6,000 times as much as the value of the property he was accused of stealing. But when men like Eno appropriate one or two millions to their own use they either get away without the annoyance of giving bail or the amount is put at a huncould formsh ball to the amount of $1,-000,600 much cases. A Flaming Stream

A party of Befhany students in an attempt to have fun Thursday night succeeded in scaring the town and community in general. Up Buffalo creek a big gusher oil well was recently opened up, and since then great quantities of oil have been coming down that usually placid stream. About 9 o'clock Thursday night the boys set fire to the oil in the creek with startling effect. It immediately spread over the width of the creek and then started off with the current, leaving in its train a sheet of flame nearly 70 feet high It was not long until Bethany was trembling in a semicircle of flame Within an hour the creek looked like a serpont of fire nearly two miles long. Dense volumes of smoke almost suffocated the people of Bethany. By the close of the second hour every road was blockaded with wagons and buggies conmiles to see the strange fire upon the waters, and thousands of spectators were upon the hilltops.

The fire's fury increased until 24 hours had clapsed, when the flames died out. The damage was small. The water in the creek was nearly boiling when the around it, was lost on the Glendale road be-tween town and the Gould ranch. The pocket fire was gone,—Wheeling Intelligencer.

Eno a name can justly be given to a season which is different from the other seasons only in being slightly cooler, has been warm and pleasant, with not a single day when out of door life would be unpleasant I recall that New Year's day was excessively warm, and that riding at noon on that day was hot work

We have had hardly any snow on the smaller mountains making up the frai of this incomparable valley of Mexico and this is unusual, ar generally for a week or two in January the lower hills will get a capping of snow, which makes them a handsome sight under the over head tropical sun Nor did we have the usual amount of the "aguas nieves," or snow waters, a few days of cold show ers, which are due to arrive in January but staid away In fact, while you in the far north have had what may fairly be called a tremendous winter, we have been enjoying one long Indian summer
